Message From Chairperson

INSEC presents this Annual Report 2018 with its sincere thanks to all the contributors engaged to achieve its strategic targets. This report covers the achievements and engagements undertaken from 16 July 2017 to 15 July 2018. This report has highlighted thematic performance under human rights monitoring and documentation, human rights education, human rights advocacy and institutional capacity development. The performance and achievements are strongly correlated with the strategic objectives and targets of the institution. INSEC has documented the evidence of its achievement to validate its claim as well. The rigorous engagement to monitor, record and report the cases of human rights violation and possible response to the survivors, advocating to enlarge the civic space, human rights friendly legal environment, democratic process and rule of law for social justice, empowerment of people on human rights principles are the key identity of INSEC. I believe that the impartial and quality engagement of our team in protecting and promoting human rights is expanding peoples' trust towards it.

This reporting period is important for us because this is the first year after the completion of the three spheres of election and placement of elected governments. As one of the pioneer human rights organizations in Nepal, INSEC has engaged with the governments and legislature to advocate for human rights friendly laws, policies and plans. Similarly, INSEC's engagement was more concentrated on dialogues meant for further strengthening civic space. The executive decisions against the constitutional mandate to civil society organizations were challenged by us. As a result they were cancelled. INSEC has intensely observed the democratic process and has contributed to strengthen democratic system, fundamental rights, press freedom and, independent fair and competent judiciary ultimately for more peaceful and more prosperous Nepal.

Serious national concerns such as truth and reconciliation were neglected by the state in this year too. We created pressure and disseminated the facts available in our documentation to contribute to the rights of the conflict victims. INSEC strongly appeals to the political forces and legislature to engage more to ensure the justice of the people. Impunity in the cases of serious crime against humanity is not acceptable in the modern society. INSEC has keen interest to question to the government on their delivery to the people. Are the political parties leading in power at different levels of governments delivering the result to the people as per the constitutional mandate and their political manifesto? This is an important question to sustain democratic republic in Nepal. I believe that there are spaces for civil society to further strengthen the democratic republic in Nepal.

During this year, INSEC carried out its usual activities like publication of the year book 2018 which has documented the incidents of human rights violation and abuses across the country. We focused on enabling the people, especially women and children from the marginalized communities to assert for their rights to education, food and health. They have been capacitated through various activities to make claims on economic, social and cultural rights to the concerned government stakeholders. Furthermore, INSEC put efforts in exerting pressure for the ratification of international human rights treaties, their domestication and effective implementation, among others. Furthermore, INSEC facilitated initiatives to localize disaster risk reduction preparedness knowledge and mobilization of the youths for their capacity enhancement.

With the above note, I would like to highly appreciate the contribution of INSEC Chairperson Mr. Subodh Raj Pyakurel during this tenure for his leadership, policy guidance and continuous mentoring. INSEC expresses its sincere gratitude to the partners and donors who have trusted to our goal. I believe that the achievements are possible with the proper utilization of the resources. The collective efforts, partnership and collaborative interventions with all our well-wishers are also important in this journey. I would like to thank INSEC executive committee members, staff and volunteers for their continued commitment to achieving our goals towards protection and promotion of human rights. I wish all the best to INSEC team and commit to ensure integrity to transform all its aims into reality. Thank you.

Dr. Indira Shrestha

HRWG Leads for Cleanliness of Municipality

Gurbhakot Municipality in Surkhet district did not use to be well managed from the point of view of sanitation and garbage management. Market places used to be unhygienic. Vegetable market, pig farms, slaughterhouses and residential area always remained in a mess nearby garbage dumping areas.

Realizing the health hazards caused by the situation, Gurbhakot HRWG in coordination with the Municipality, took initiations to set the situation right. After several meetings with the Municipality authority, the HRWG prepared an action plan for the improvement before submitting it to the Municipality authority. The HRWG then conducted interaction on 6, September 2017 and formed an 18-member committee for sanitation issues of the Municipality. Under the leadership of HRWG, numbers of organizations and groups such as consumer groups, local elected representatives at ward levels, mother groups, youth groups and other stakeholders collaborated in the effort of the HRWG, ultimately maintaining cleanliness.

HRWGs Establish Immunization Center

Ghodsuwa area of Ward 11 of Dhangadhi Metropolitan city had no fixed place for vaccinating children. The government of Nepal has been conducting programs to provide vitamins and polio vaccines periodically. However, administering vaccines on children, due to lack of fixed place to attend, had been a problem for health workers for long. Conducting the immunization spree in open spaces or sometimes at private buildings tended to miss numbers of children from getting immunized.

In the initiation of HRWGs at Dhangadhi, in December 2017, a formal demand was put forth demanding there be a permanent immunization centre. Representatives from Ward Office, local health post authorities and other local stakeholders supported the concept for establishing temporary immunization center.

As Ward Office of the Municipality supported with NPR 50,000 for maintenance and purchasing required equipment, HRWGs could well manage the center. Now, the periodic immunizations take place in the centre, on of the rooms of which has been used as a public library.

Orphans Admitted at SOS

Visit of Concerned Authorities to the House Where the Orphans had been Living

Maheshwor Nepali and Rama Nepali were the residents of Banganka Municipality-8, in the district of Kapilvastu. They had three children. Within six months' period, both of them died. Maheshwor died in July 2017 and then his wife Rama in December of the same year.

The eldest son is eight years old and two daughters 6 years, and 6 months old. Orphaned, they were under the care of maternal uncle. The economic condition of the maternal uncle was so poor that he could not take care properly of the children so the latter had not been getting enough food and financial support for their bringing up and education. Their situation was published in local newspapers and online news portals on 5 February 2018.

After knowing the issue from the newspaper, human rights watch group of Kapilvastu immediately called a meeting on February 7 and submitted a memorandum to the CDO for the care of those orphans. Since one child was only six months old, it was difficult for the concerned organizations to take responsibility of care and nurture. The CDO office then had had contact with SOS office Bhairahawa and introduced the case. SOS office Bhairahawa agreed to take responsibility of all three children. A team of CDO, police officers, journalists, watch group members and INSEC representatives then visited the house of the orphan. During the visit it was observed that the orphans had not been getting food and their uncle did not have money even for buying milk. The human rights watch group posted the information on social media and requested the public and concerned organizations for providing support to the children. As an impact of social media, Lumbini Society Kuwait provided NPR 51,000 and a Butwal based businessman provided logistic support of NPR 15,000. The amount hence received was provided to the children's uncle on February 24 as witnessed by Government officers, the representative of Lumbini Society Kuwait, INSEC, among others. On March 6, 2018, three children were formally admitted at SOS Bhairahawa under the leadership of INSEC representative Nanda Ram Pokhrel as agreed in the meeting held at CDO office.

HRWG Contributes to Ensure Regular Teaching Learning Environment in Schools

A Glimpse of a Meeting of School Management with Human Rights Awareness Group

Community schools at Ward No.6 of Laxmipur Rural Municipality in the district of Siraha had not been having good academic results of students for long. Irregularities on the part of teachers are primarily pinpointed for the bad performance. Late opening schools and closing classes early was a norm. Despite this reality, situation had not been changing for good.

Human Rights Watch Group (HRWG) members in the Ward raised this concern pro-actively and concluded that irregularity was the cause of poor performance.

HRWG organized meetings and interactions among stakeholders and the beneficiaries. Ward level elected representatives were pushed to act for reforming school environments. With the initiation and pressure from the HRWG, elected representatives of the Municipality started a sustained monitoring of teaching learning status and environment of the schools as a result of which schools got regular and in time. Parents and other stakeholders believe now that this change will be a foundation for improving quality education of schools of their localities.
